

March 13, 2020

Dear Students and Families,

As we approach this unexpected time off from school, please stay safe! Wash hands, disinfect, and try to stay away from any crowded areas. As our students are off from school on these days, it may be easy to fall out of practice with school routines and curriculum. Please keep reading, writing, and practicing your math skills! The following online resources may be useful to you.

Website or App Information	Description
PebbleGo & PebbleGo Next (Access through Library site or Clever) Username: beach Password: school	PebbleGo is geared towards younger students and PebbleGo Next is aimed towards our older kids. These sites are perfect research tools for students.
PBSKids.org	Educational Games & Activities
Dreambox (access through Clever)	Part of our math curriculum, a website/app that helps students practice math skills
Clever (Access through student section of CCPS site www.calvertnet.k12.md.us/for_students) Username: s##### (student lunch number) Password: 8 digit birthdate	Clever is our student's access point to many school resources and activities, including Kodable, Code.org, Wixie, and NitroType. I will also be posting regular read aloud videos on students' "Library with Mrs. Grenier" Clever file.
Explore.org	Live webcams of nature sites and animal rescue facilities around the world. You can write about what you see! Research the animals and habitats you discover!
Storyline Online www.storylineonline.net	Stories read aloud by Actors from the Screen Actors Guild
Brain Pop and Brain Pop Jr. www.brainpop.com , brainpopjr.com Username: beach2011 Password: beach2011 You can also log in through Clever.	BrainPop features short videos on a wide variety of topics for grades 4 and up. Brain Pop Jr. features a variety of videos for grades PreK-3.
Calvert Library calvertlibrary.info	Check out the Research and Kids/Teens section for lots of resources and activities for families.

Remember to do lots of reading, write about what you're doing and write creatively, get outside and get some fresh air! We can't wait for everyone to get back to school.

Keep reading!

Mrs. Casey Grenier

Mrs. Casey Grenier

Beach Elementary Librarian